

DIDN'T PROPOSE, YOUNG WIFE SAYS, DISPUTING 'HUBBY'

Mrs. Foster Attributes Man's Allegation to Fear of Woman Who Adopted Him.

Mrs. Thelma Helms Foster's petition for right to rear her nephew for alimony and counsel fees, denied last Friday by Justice March, will come up before him again to-day.

"It is a cruel falsehood to say that I proposed marriage. The only secrecy about our marriage was wholly on Angelo's insistence, and he didn't at first tell me the truth as to his reason for that."

This is the answer of Mrs. Thelma Helms Foster, wife of Angelo Scarpa Foster, adopted son of Mrs. Nona McAdoo Foster, sister of William G. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury, and widow of a Boston banker, to allegations in her husband's deposition that she had proposed marriage, that they had a honeymoon of one hour, and in the year and a half since the marriage had met only occasionally on Saturday afternoons.

The deposition was filed as an answer in a petition by Mrs. Foster for alimony pending the decision of her suit for separation. She also served a summons on Mrs. Nona McAdoo Foster in a suit for $50,000 for alleged alienation of Angelo's affections.

Mrs. Thelma Foster is young and beautiful. Mrs. Nona McAdoo Foster is middle-aged, yet the two appear to have become rivals for the affection of the handsome young Italian, who at twenty-seven, after an acquaintance of five years, was adopted by the elder woman.

According to the junior Mrs. Foster, her husband asked that the marriage be kept secret because news of it would cause Mrs. Nona Foster's death, as she was a sufferer from heart disease. Later, says the young wife, he admitted he feared that Mrs. Foster, if she heard of his marriage, would be so torn by jealousy, his material prospects would be ruined, as he was wholly dependent upon her for support.

"Far from my pursuing him," said young Mrs. Foster to-day, "he was persistent in his attentions to me. He gave me a two-carat diamond ring, an engagement present of a pearl necklace, a ruby ring and a seal-ring set for Christmas. He carried the wedding ring in his pocket two months before my parents consented to the marriage. The only thing 'sudden' was that it occurred without any fuss and feathers. We started to a theatre, he urged me to get married and we went to the minister's house."

"Then came the life of evasion. He told me it would ruin him if his mother knew of the marriage, that any other woman. Finally he informed me he would go to Europe with his mother, tell her of the marriage there and immediately return to me. But he didn't, and I got tired and filed my suit. The only way I can explain his contemptible affidavit is that he is trying to make his loving foster-mother believe I led him into temptation and made him momentarily forget his 'meal ticket.'"

Mrs. Thelma Foster is the daughter of Herman Helms, chess expert. Her mother is the daughter of the late Charles W. Whitney, a lawyer. Mrs. Foster met Angelo through Mrs. Emma Thursby, the prima donna. Mrs. Foster's uncle formed a corporation to deal in real estate, Mrs. Nona McAdoo Foster financing Angelo's share.

Mrs. Helms said: "I did not want Thelma to marry him, but they seemed so thoroughly in love that I consented, most reluctantly. I am sorry I did not go further in my opposition, which might have prevented this unfortunate occurrence."

ARREST DETROIT MAN AS AUTO STOCK SWINDLER

With the arrest yesterday of a man described as Edward Sweeney, thirty, who came here about a week ago from Detroit and stopped at the Hotel Belmont, detectives of the Tremont Station, the Bronx, claim they have unearthed an automobile stock swindling scheme of large proportions.

Sweeney was arrested on the complaint of Thomas Dodd, a garage owner, of No. 2175 Valentine Avenue, the Bronx, who charges the larceny of $6,150. Sweeney, a dapper, well dressed young man, was arrested as he was about to step into an expensive automobile he brought from Detroit. In addition to the $6,150 got from Mr. Dodd, the police charge him with swindling operations that have already netted over $25,000.

The alleged swindle was in the sale of stock in a company which was to sell the surplus cars of a widely advertised automobile concern. The cars, manufactured in Europe, but never sold, it was claimed, could be bought and resold at half the present market price of the same make, at great profit.

SING SING DRUG USERS INCREASE 300 PER CENT.

Number Admitted This Year Largest in Prison's History.

Figures made public by Dr. Amos C. Squire, head physician of Sing Sing, to-day, show a gain of more than 41 per cent. in the number of drug addicts admitted to the prison in the fiscal year which ends in twelve days.

In the year ending June 30, 1920, there were thirty-three drug-users received at Sing Sing. This number was increased to ninety-three in the year ending June 30, 1921, and to 132 in the year now nearly closed.

A search of prison records for years back discloses that the number of drug addicts admitted this year is the largest in the history of the institution.

STORY FALL KILLS VETERAN.

Frank J. O'Brien, thirty-two, a World War veteran, was killed instantly last night when he fell from the second floor of his home, No. 215 Park Avenue, Brooklyn. He had opened the window to get some air, the police say. He was married and had one son.

CAR KILLS WORKER AT NAVY YARD; TWO OTHER FATALITIES

Driver Menaced by Crowd Runs Away, but Surrenders Later.

Frank Rotola, of No. 171 Tremont Street, Brooklyn, was killed by an automobile to-day as he stepped from a Flushing Avenue car at the Carlton Avenue gate of the Navy Yard, where he is employed. The driver of the car, Frank Ketcham of No. 18 Vanderbilt Avenue, increased speed when the crowd about the gate began to shout at him, and disappeared on Flushing Avenue.

Half an hour later he came back and surrendered to Policeman Burley at the gate. He said he was afraid of being mobbed if he stopped when the crowd started for him at the time of the accident. He was locked up on a charge of homicide.

Burley said he had the names of witnesses who said Ketcham violated the ordinance against passing within eight feet of a car taking on or discharging passengers.

Several fatalities marked motor crashes in or near New York yesterday.

Clyde Huyler, eighteen, a clerk, of Baldwin, L. I., was riding his motorcycle on Queens Boulevard in Elmhurst when the machine skidded and struck an automobile. He died in St. John's Hospital, Long Island City.

Benjamin Silvers, twenty-five, of Rosenhayn, N. J., was instantly killed and John Ritter, thirty, and Wolf Cohen, forty, of the same place, were seriously injured near Vineland when the automobile in which they were riding crashed into a tree.
